What is the TERM?

The short answer:

The TERM provides a list of occupations and training programs that have the best potential for good opportunity in the local job market.

The occupation ranking is based on statistics for projected openings, growth rate, wages, low turnover, and skills. Educational and training requirements are also included for each occupation. These statistics are used in a mathematical model, the Training and Education Resource Model.

Detailed explanations are at the end of each report, and additional notes are available in the menu at the bottom of TERM section on the web page: www.workforce.az.gov From the left side navigation menu select 'economy', then 'occupations'. The TERM will be on the right hand column.
